

06 10
Days Hours

Judges

Our judges love the way we run our awards programme so much, that 75% of them return each year. Therefore, we now have a waiting list with some of our long-standing judges offering to step aside for a year to give someone else a chance! If you are interested in judging for us in the future, please email: karen@GlobalGoodAwards.co.uk. You must have been involved in a judging process before, and have the necessary experience within at least 5 of our categories.

We are currently confirming our 2020 line-up, however, 50% of the 2019 judges below have already confirmed their place.

Dates for the diary

Entries close: 28th February 2020 (extended deadline 6th March)

Access to Award software: 16th March and 3rd April 2020

Judging Day: 22nd April (11:00 – 17:00) – London location TBC

@MyKindaFuture

Will Akerman | Founder and MD, MyKindaFuture

Privacy & Cookies Policy

HEADLINE SPONSOR 2017-2019

ABOUT 2019 ABOUT ENTERING

ENTER SPONSORS

PREVIOUS YEARS GOOD STUFF

EVENT CONSULTANCY EVENTS

RESOURCES

the vision of ensuring every young person, regardless of their background, has the opportunity to succeed in life and at work.

In 2016, Will was recognised for his work in supporting and nurturing the next generation of young talent through inclusion on the Maserati 100 List. Will is also a member of the City & Guilds Council.

Will has been on the Judging Panel since 2016.

"I was thrilled to be asked; it gave me a chance to get to grips with the great work that so many organisations are doing and see first hand the progress that is being made."

@kbaddele

Kathryn Baddeley | Head of CSR at Cisco UK & Ireland

Privacy & Cookies Policy

China to the west coast of the US publishing Cisco's 86 global websites in 40 languages.

Kathryn started working in CSR in 1999, creating a partnership for Cisco Australia with The Smith Family, a leading Australian NGO. The partnership won the award for large business in Prime Minister's Award for Excellence in Community Business Partnerships in 2001. On her return to the UK Kathryn volunteered as part of the Cisco UK & Ireland Civic Council and participated in and led several successful CSR programmes. Since late 2009 Kathryn has led a programme to mentor offenders in several prisons who are studying for Cisco networking qualifications in the Prison ICT Academy. As a small programme it has been highly successful and the programme is now entering the next phase – seeking to scale through a network of Cisco channel partners.

Kathryn holds a BSc in mathematics from Hull University and lives in Berkshire with her two daughters.

Kathryn has been on the Judging Panel since 2016.

@JoeBaguley

Joe Baguley | Vice President & Chief Technology Officer

Privacy & Cookies Policy

processes.

Joe is a recognised leader within the European technical community and considered one of the top 50 most influential leaders in UK IT. He won an award for data leadership in 'Infrastructure & Protection' in the 2016 Data 50 Awards and appeared in the Computer Weekly UKtech50, the Information Age Top 50 Data Leaders and the Cloud World Series' Cloud 100 community board. He has played a key role in CloudCamp and other events, communicating how cloud technology fits into the broader IT landscape. Joe previously spent ten years at Quest Software where he was CTO of EMEA, shaping its direction and strategy.

In addition, Joe is also on several advisory boards at the European Commission and ETSI and is a founding committee member of the Data Centre Specialist Group at the British Computer Society which helped shape the European Code Of Conduct for Data Centres.

Joe is based in the UK but his remit is across Europe, Middle East and Africa.

Joe is new to the Judging Panel in 2019, after vwware's Overall Excellence win in 2017.

@rick_benfield

Rick Benfield | Founder of thirdbridge

Privacy & Cookies Policy

Prior to setting up thirdbridge, Rick worked as a business consultant in both the private sector and third sector for over 12 years, developing a unique perspective and understanding of the needs and demands of the two sectors. He is the co-founder and trustee of Uganda Creates – a small charity operating in Uganda with 15 employees – and helped set-up and launch a social enterprise in Malawi building the capacity of the SME sector.

He is also an RSA fellow and a firm believer that the world’s social and environmental issues can only be solved if the private sector are involved.

Rick has been on the Judging Panel since 2017.

“I attended the National CSR Awards in 2016, which had a conference before the awards event. It was by far and away the best CSR conference I had been to in years – covering the full range of topics that a company should be considering from tax policy, to pension investment, to supply chain to environmental impact and beyond. I thought then that I need to get involved with this organisation, they actually ‘get’ that CSR is about more than a philanthropic donation to charity!”

@HilBergHBC

at Alder Hey Children’s Hospital and Charity. She has over 25 years of PR experience, mostly as an independent brand and communications consultant, specialising in social change. This has included work on diverse projects including a study of restorative justice in New York and developing retail CSR strategy in South Africa.

In 2013 and 2016 Hil was named ‘UK outstanding freelance practitioner’ by the Chartered Institute of Public Relations. She has a passion for social enterprise and social innovation, which initially involved her helping to set up a community business in Kathmandu, Nepal, and she has since worked in Africa, Asia, Europe and the United States. She has created and run two award-winning UK consultancy businesses.

She is also a Trustee of the Lankelly Chase Foundation and national social care charity PSS. She is completing a Master’s Degree in PR, with a research focus on storytelling for social change Hil is a keen photographer, veteran backpacker and a volunteer survival instructor for her husband’s adventure business, which connects communities with the great outdoors.

@y_ychauhan

sustainability and corporate affairs operations across UK and Ireland. He is presently delivering a range of external engagements, diversity, environmental, innovation and thought leadership initiatives designed to embed sustainability across the company and build trust in the brand. Yogesh also convenes the Tata Europe Network Forum's Corporate Responsibility Working Group which brings together Tata companies operating across Europe to share and develop best practice as well as build the Group's sustainability profile.

Prior to this, Yogesh was the BBC's Chief Adviser on Corporate Responsibility and Environment. He worked for the corporation from 2001 starting his career in programme making then moving to public affairs and gradually taking on a leadership role in the BBC's ethical, sustainability and corporate citizenship activities.

Other professional appointments include serving as a non-executive member of Walgreens Boots Alliance Advisory Panel for Sustainability. Previously Yogesh was chairman of the Corporate Responsibility Group (CRG), the UK's practitioner network and emerging professional body for those working in the field of corporate responsibility and sustainability. Aligned to this he was also a board trustee director at Business in the Community, the UK's leading charity promoting responsible business practice. Yogesh also served as a Trustee of BBC Children in Need and BBC Wildlife Fund.

Yogesh was educated at the London School of Economics and enjoys cycling, current affairs and long country walks.

Yogesh is new to the Judging Panel for 2019, after TATA have been finalists (once winning) 3 years in a row.

@PhilClarke01

Phil Clarke | Director, Consciam

Privacy & Cookies Policy

interim Director of Corporate Partnerships, having previously authored a report for Earthwatch on the business response to the UN Sustainable Development Goals.

After graduating with a degree in Environmental Studies, Phil worked in the water industry and IT project management, before returning to his environmental roots. Prior to founding Consciam, Phil led Capgemini UK's Environmental Sustainability team, significantly reducing impacts, engaging employees and establishing a "Net Positive" ambition.

Phil has a life-long passion for the natural world. At his happiest outdoors, fascinated by nature in all its forms, Phil believes reconnecting people with nature is a key part of solving the challenges we face, from environmental issues to health and wellbeing. Phil uses this as an excuse to spend as little time at his desk as possible, often with his chocolate lab in tow.

Phil has been on the Judging Panel since 2017.

@DenmaurPapers

He became involved with the company's ever growing environmental requirements in 2005, and this soon developed into a full-time role in sustainability.

Responsible for the direction of the Denmaur's sustainability policy, the implementation and maintenance of the company's certifications and sustainability programmes – including, recently, the launch of the Revive paper brand and the company's Carbon Balance Paper offsetting scheme.

Danny also supports new business development, as well as daily interaction with existing clients and suppliers and the broader stakeholder interest.

An advocate of environmental awareness and fair trade practice, he is always keen to promote paper as one of the best examples of a circular product for a low carbon, sustainable economy.

Danny has been on the Judging Panel since 2017 as a representative from our headline sponsors, Denmaur.

“Becoming a judge was a good opportunity to learn from other sectors, and their goods and services, and also an opportunity to impart some of the knowledge from the success that we've gained in the paper industry.”

@CareerVolnteer

Louise Erskine | Managing Director, Career Volunteering

Privacy & Cookies Policy

responsibility practices, she engages with multiple business facets to ensure that pro bono can both compliment and facilitate interactions with the broader responsible business agenda.

Louise has extensive experience of the non profit sector and is a Board Director of OxfordHR, an international development specialist search agency. She has a PhD in international development which focused on harnessing and mobilising resources of the private sector to reduce poverty, and is a former university lecturer. Louise is also a Trustee of Rainforest Foundation UK, an international organisation working to ensure long-term protection of rainforests by securing the rights of indigenous and forest peoples to lands and livelihoods.

Louise is new to the Judging Panel for 2019, but Career Volunteer have been Partners since 2015.

@anitagoyal_

Anita Goyal | CEO & Trustee of The Hemraj Goyal Foundation

Privacy & Cookies Policy

progressing to Assistant Head Teacher of Inclusion. Anita has completed her MA in Special and Inclusive Education at the Institute of Education and UCL. She is the Co-founder of Ultimate You where she designs educational seminars for business, leadership, life and relationships with her husband- Avnish Goyal (an award winning entrepreneur).

Under the family Foundation, Anita has launched People of the World as a platform for investing in the personal development and empowerment of all people from diverse backgrounds. She is passionate about making a difference and believes in doing everything with passion and purpose.

Anita is new to the Judging Panel for 2019.

@carboncoach

David Hampton FCIOB MEI CEng CEnv | 'The Carbon Coach'

Privacy & Cookies Policy

The first 25 years of his professional career he spent influencing thought-leaders and captains of industry towards deeper sustainability. In 2005 he set up on his own as ‘The Carbon Coach’ – the world’s first. He is an Ambassador for Embercombe, and in 2014 won the edie Sustainability Leader of the Year Award.

Dave has been on the Judging Panel since 2016.

“When I first encountered the Global Good Awards they seemed fun, fresh, un-stuffy and disruptive; how you’d expect an awards to be, believing in responsibility and ethics! Potentially a breath of fresh air, and a force for GOOD (globally) I thought. I was impressed by the diverse array of judges Karen had already assembled, so it was a no brainer to seek to join.”

@LakePig

Sarah Handley | Carbon Neutral Manager at Sie

Privacy & Cookies Policy

Prior to her role in Siemens corporate team, Sarah worked at a division of Siemens in Nottingham as Quality & Environment Manager. Sarah set up a CSR strategy, volunteering policy and community programmes supporting local nature conservation sites.

Sarah is a Chartered Environmentalist and a full member of the Institute of Environmental Management & Assessment (IEMA)

Sarah is a newcomer to the Judging Panel for 2020, taking over from Mark Jenkinson at Siemens who had been a judge since 2016.

@WWF_UK

Naomi Hicks | Director of Corporate Partnerships | WWF

Privacy & Cookies Policy

HEADLINE SPONSOR 2017-2019

ABOUT 2019 ABOUT ENTERING

ENTER SPONSORS

PREVIOUS YEARS GOOD STUFF

EVENT CONSULTANCY EVENTS

RESOURCES

charities and governments alike to catalyse social and environmental change.

Naomi is a newcomer to the Judging Panel for 2019, but WWF has been represented since 2016.

@holmekate

Kate Holme | Corporate Partnerships Leader at The Good Company

Privacy & Cookies Policy

HEADLINE SPONSOR 2017-2019

- ABOUT
- 2019
- ABOUT ENTERING
- ENTER
- SPONSORS
- PREVIOUS YEARS
- GOOD STUFF
- EVENT CONSULTANCY
- EVENTS
- RESOURCES

Kate has been on the Judging Panel since 2016.

Linked In

HEADLINE SPONSOR 2017-2019

Gap reporting for Pearson, in that role he also led on environmental management globally; supply chain responsibility and sustainability related rankings, awards and benchmarks.

Previously, Peter was a Director at Corporate Citizenship where he provided strategic counsel on broad corporate responsibility strategy to global Fortune 500 companies / FTSE100 companies as well as time running their New York office.

Linked In

Laura Jacklin | Business Engagement Officer, Community Partnership

Privacy & Cookies Policy

HEADLINE SPONSOR 2017-2019

ABOUT 2019 ABOUT ENTERING

ENTER SPONSORS

PREVIOUS YEARS GOOD STUFF

EVENT CONSULTANCY EVENTS

RESOURCES

London's air. Prior to working at CRP Laura worked in the private sector, setting up her own business and creating a long term sustainability strategy for a variety of multinational business and worked with a large food retailer on their supply chain work with specific focus on sustainability of the food and fashion industry.

Laura is a newcomer to the Judging Panel for 2019, but CRP has been represented since 2018.

Linked In

David Millary | Founder, ImageVision

Privacy & Cookies Policy

exclusively on providing cutting edge payment solutions to the healthcare provider marketplace in the USA.

David has been involved in several non-profit organisations at the local and global level. As a board member of the Macha Malaria Research Institute for 10+ years, David had the opportunity to be part of an incredible organisation that enabled the reduction of malaria cases in southern Zambia by 98%. Locally, David provides development committee participation in the Brethren Housing Association which provides vital services to homeless families in the Harrisburg, PA area. He has also supported various organisations from micro-finance to orphan support. More recently, David has had the privilege to participate with Child Action – a UK based organisation doing great work for children in India.

David hopes to continue to work globally to utilise his business and technical acumen to provide job opportunities in rural areas in Africa.

David is a newcomer to the Judging Panel for 2019.

Linked In

Rachel Murphy | VP BI Citizenship Team, Barcla

Privacy & Cookies Policy

societal and environmental impact. Since joining the team, Rachel has managed the delivery of a number of skills based volunteering initiatives where colleagues share their expertise, insights and networks. These include bespoke brainstorming events for entrepreneurs and charities, and CV & interview skills workshops for young people looking to secure jobs.

Rachel is new to the Judging Panel in 2019.

@CCitizenship

responsibility for P&L, people management, client relationship development, business development and project management. He successfully led and delivered projects in complex multi-stakeholder environments and has been project director of numerous C-suite projects in which he has supported clients across a range of industries with connecting their sustainability strategies with their core business objectives, and then measuring, valuing and communicating the value which this creates for their stakeholders.

He is a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Management Accountants, holds a D.Phil. on the history of the East India Company and graduated with First Class honours in Modern History from Oxford University.

Jeremy is new to the Judging Panel in 2019.

@DrPaulaOwen

Paula Owen | Founder of ecoactiongames & Trustee at 10:10

Paula has worked in the field of sustainability for two decades. She began her career in academia with a PhD in climate chemistry from Oxford University. However, quickly realised she couldn't spend her entire life in a darkened laboratory and so changed tack to concentrate on communicating environmental and scientific concepts to non-technical audiences.

Since then she has worked for environmental charities, within the public sector, in UK Government environmental departments: Defra and DECC, and for the Energy Saving Trust. In 2010 she set up her own research, training and advice agency focusing on environmental sustainability generally, and energy issues and carbon management in particular. She works with a range of clients, from blue chip corporates right through to arts organisations.

by the Mayor's Office, the Greater London Authority \(GLA\) and the London Sustainable Development Commission – to further her work in researching the power of fun and games to encourage sustainability. She is the founder and chief 'fun & gamer' in her new social enterprise company – eco action games – an initiative which re-imagines well-known games and gives them an environmental twist to help education, engage and engender behaviour change in wider society.

Paula has been on the Judging Panel since the awards launched in 2015, and plays an integral part of the programme.

"I think it's a great idea to bring together environmental, social and economic into one awards programme as they are all part of the solution. I love judging these awards; being part of the journey and seeing how it's evolve enormously."

@lopapatel

Lopa Patel MBE | Digital Entrepreneur

Privacy & Cookies Policy

She is a Chartered Marketer and Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Marketing (CIM), a Fellow of the Institute of Direct Marketing (IDM) and a Fellow of the Royal Society for the Arts (RSA). In 2017, she was invited to join the Queen's Award for Enterprise Innovation judging panel.

She is an ambassador for entrepreneurship, innovation and technology and has been recognised with accolades including an MBE for services to the creative industries; the Queen's Award for Enterprise Promotion and an Honorary Doctorate by The Open University, in recognition of her efforts to promote diversity and inclusion in science and technology and her broader contribution to British industry, society and culture.

Lopa is a newcomer to the Judging Panel in 2019.

@daniel_quelch

Daniel Quelch | CSR Manager, Epson

Privacy & Cookies Policy

waste paper, without the use of water³. With Epson's PaperLab installed in a business or government office environment, users will be able to produce paper of various sizes, thicknesses and types, from office paper to business card paper, to paper that is coloured and scented.

Daniel is an experienced CSR, Sustainability and Diversity and Inclusion blogger and in 2018 launch theresponsiblebusinessblog.com a place for all three to come together and for peers to learn, comment, discuss and develop ideas.

Prior to his work at Epson, Daniel has been a CSR and Sustainability consultant for numerous FTSE250 businesses including Virgin Trains, Zurich Insurance, PepsiCo, Hays and BDO. He also brings NGO experience having worked at Cancer Research UK and the Stroke Association.

Daniel holds a MSc in CSR & Sustainability from London Met and lives in Buckinghamshire with his partner.

Daniel is a newcomer to the Judging Panel in 2019.

@alex_chase

Alex Robinson | Managing Director, Hubbub Enterprise

Privacy & Cookies Policy

HEADLINE SPONSOR 2017-2019

- ABOUT
- 2019
- ABOUT ENTERING
- ENTER
- SPONSORS
- PREVIOUS YEARS
- GOOD STUFF
- EVENT CONSULTANCY
- EVENTS
- RESOURCES

Before Hubhub, Alex was an Associate at On Purpose, which helps mid-career professionals transition into the social enterprise sector. There he designed and implemented a social impact measurement framework for Natwest's social finance charity, and applied his brand, marketing and operational skills to public sector consultancy Collaborate CIC.

Alex spent the first part of his career as an entrepreneur in the music industry, focused on representing US record labels in Europe. It seems a world away now, but how many other execs in the environmental sector can say they worked with Snoop Dogg?

@SeemaSharmaUK

Seema Sharma | Entrepreneur & Founder of Chitani

Privacy & Cookies Policy

such as those which have been established on rubbish dumping grounds. She works with three grass roots charities to support the development of young people living in extreme poverty by providing them with access to both informal and mainstream education, as well their right to a childhood through play.

Through Child Action Seema has seen the entrepreneurial flair and ‘can-do’ attitude of children living in unimaginable hardship, and believes there are valuable lessons to be shared globally. Seema facilitated and project managed an innovative collaboration between Child Action and the British Asian Trust one of the Prince’s charities resulting in the roll out of Enterprise 4 Change, an innovative web-based resource which teachers in the UK use to explore the resilience of children living in challenging environments, with the aim of sharing core life skills such as determination and entrepreneurship. It also introduces the idea of philanthropy to the younger generations and encourages a sense of social responsibility.

Seema has been on the Judging Panel since 2016.

“As a GGA Judge I have the opportunity to review some really amazing work around sustainability, and it’s great fun to chat to like-minded people on the judging day!”

@GeorginaStevens

HEADLINE SPONSOR 2017-2019

- ABOUT
- 2019
- ABOUT ENTERING
- ENTER
- SPONSORS
- PREVIOUS YEARS
- GOOD STUFF
- EVENT CONSULTANCY
- EVENTS
- RESOURCES

ups to multinationals who all share the bravery and intention to look at things differently and make big changes. Some of her recent work has included helping a $2bn valuation food company realise the bottom line benefits of sustainability as they went through their IPO, and working with Bafta and Warner Bros. She is also a trustee for climate change campaigning organisation, 1010, and an author, campaigner and speaker on sustainability. Just don't get her started on cycling.....

Georgina is a newcomer to the Judging Panel for 2018.

@JLR_News

Laura Vickery | Global CSR Manager at Jaguar Land Rover

Privacy & Cookies Policy

in 2015 by a national awards scheme (ACRE365) and sits on the steering group for the London Benchmarking Group – an organisation that helps guide how organisations can best measure and manage the social value they generate. She achieved a Post Graduate Certificate in Sustainable Value Chains in June 2017 – a course run by the University of Cambridge Institute for Sustainable Leadership. She is also a Trustee for the charity Caplor Horizons, which specialises in strengthening organisational effectiveness, by focusing on leadership, strategy and advocacy.

Laura is a newcomer to the Judging Panel for 2019 and was a Global Good winner with JLR in 2016.

@pebblemagazine

Georgina Wilson-Powell | Editor at Pebble Magazine

Georgina Wilson-Powell has been a journalist and editor for 15 years working with Time Out, Lonely Planet, BBC Travel and BBC Good Food. She founded pebble magazine Privacy & Cookies Policy people

HEADLINE SPONSOR 2017-2019

ABOUT 2019 ABOUT ENTERING

ENTER SPONSORS

PREVIOUS YEARS GOOD STUFF

EVENT CONSULTANCY EVENTS

RESOURCES

Georgina is a new addition to the Judging Panel for 2018.

"I'm passionate about helping small businesses succeed as well as shifting the way we consume everything from food to fashion. The GGAs reflect the growth I've seen even in the last couple of years to support eco businesses and products."

@martinfutures

business and political leaders from Paul Polman to David Cameron. He has broadcast on radio and TV, including the BBC and Sky. His TED talk on 'The New Environmentalism' topped the bill at the 2014 TEDx event in London.

As both a journalist and Visiting Judge for the Ashden Awards, Martin has travelled extensively in Asia and Africa, researching and reporting on frontline environment and development issues, and the potential of sustainable solutions to lift people out of poverty in some of the most challenging circumstances.

Martin has worked with leaders at the likes of Greenpeace, WWF, The Guardian, Unilever, Sainsbury's, Tata, BT, Marks & Spencer and the Governments of the UK, India and China; and is currently a Director of Positive News.

Awards include Science and Environment Journalist of the Year and the Global Green Future Leadership Award. He is an expert at communicating sustainability crisply, clearly and with a complete lack of bullshit, and at bringing complex issues down to earth.

Martin is a new addition to the Judging Panel for 2019 after being our speaker in 2018.

Judges on rotation

Due to high demand and a long waiting list, some of our founder-judges and those that have served on the Judging Panel for several years, have offered to be on a rotation system, and will be brought back to the panel in future years. Judges currently taking a year out on rotation are below but some are still involved within their organisations as Communication Partners.

HEADLINE SPONSOR 2017-2019

ABOUT 2019 ABOUT ENTERING

ENTER SPONSORS

PREVIOUS YEARS GOOD STUFF

EVENT CONSULTANCY EVENTS

RESOURCES

Shaheen Akram

Global Head of Diversity & Inclusion

ING

Claudine Blamey

Head of CR & Sustainability

Sainsbury's

Nick Gardner

Founder

Semble

Tom Idle

Writer, Editor, Founder

Narrative Matters

Mark Jankovich

Founder & MD

Delphis eco

Harriet Kelsall

Chairman and Founder

HK Bespoke Jewellery

Karen Lynch

CEO

Belu Water

Nas Morley

Director of Partnerships

UnLtd

Karen Reynolds

Head of Community Relations

JTI

Paul Robinson

Founder & Chair

Alquity

Kate Sadle

Community Manager

B Corp

Joan Walley

Chair

Aldersgate Group

Receive our GOOD news

Register your interest to enter...

SOMETIMES, you really do practice what you preach!

Investec

Recent Posts

Upcircle Beauty on the up and up September 16, 2019

On your marks... September 16, 2019

Public concern for nature at all-time high September 11, 2019

British farming plans to slash emissions September 10, 2019

Tesco tells suppliers to remove excess packaging September 9, 2019